

Accommodation at a Glance

The Peninsula enjoys a well earned reputation as a seaside resort and its history of hospitality dates back to the 1870's when Mornington and Sorrento welcomed visitors from Melbourne who made the long journey by horse and carriage or paddle steamer... and visitors today may still enjoy accommodation with character in a wide selection of bed and breakfasts, historic houses and cottages.

There are some wonderful 'traditional B&Bs offering in house accommodation with breakfast served to guests either in their suites, in the dining room or perhaps garden and these days many B&Bs are self-contained with breakfast provisions provided allowing even more flexibility. Numerous cottages across the Peninsula offer even more choice - designed as a home away from home and mostly fully equipped, appealing to those who seek total privacy. Cottages also have wide appeal for families but they are equally good fun for a group of friends or a couple seeking a romantic break.

To help you make your choice of where to stay please refer to our individual property descriptions and the Township Features.
